April 8, 2008 1:00pm CST
Higher Education and Corporate Training for the Enterprise

April 9, 2008 10:00am CST
K-12 Education

Location: Participate via interactive video conferencing or view streaming via the web!

Effective Video Conferencing Teaching

Learn how to create and/or adapt existing courses and materials for effective video conference learning and teaching. It will equip faculty with practical and tangible skills for making courses interesting, engaging, popular, and lively.

This 3-hour workshop is designed for those who are intending to deliver instruction or are currently delivering instruction via videoconference.

Session will cover:
- Creating an engaging environment
- Key instructional techniques and strategies
- Designing interaction
- Teaching with variety
- Livening up lectures

Presented by:
Carol Daunt Skyring
Founder and CEO of LearnTel Pty Ltd; a company that helps organizations enhance their teaching and learning programs by providing practical advice and training in skills for effective use of learning technologies.

As an experienced educator and businesswoman Carol has been involved in the design, application and effective use of learning technologies for education and business applications for 20 years. She works with universities, colleges, schools, government departments, and large corporations throughout Australia, New Zealand, USA and Europe.

Don't miss out on this specialized webinar - Register Today!
http://m2l.market2lead.com/go/polycom/videoteachingapril89