

Experience next generation
visual communications technologies and how they apply to education and teaching environments and at the same time, HAVE FUN by becoming students again!

FREE information session for Educators

Polycom Global invites you to experience how educators around the world are utilising the latest technologies to enhance the learning experience for students. Whether it is to assist them to reach more students across multiple locations, access specialist teaching resources and experts and improve efficiencies to be more productive, educators are innovating.

Polycom's new Customer Experience Centre will be transformed into a series of virtual classrooms, where you experience technologies that bridge the distance so it feels like you are in the same room with your students or colleagues no matter where they are. You can also exchange ideas with other cultures, perhaps learn origami from a Japanese colleague, learn a magic trick or two, visit the Pyramids of Giza and also hear best practice examples from our global education experts..
